The research is clear – families are essential to student success. The Parent Teacher Bridge Visits Training focuses on building the capacity of educators to build meaningful relationships with the families of their students during the COVID-19 pandemic.

Drawing on the principles of PTHV’s model of home visits by teachers, bridge visits are designed to create relationships that bridge the gap created by physical distancing.

The training will prepare teachers and family engagement specialist to:

- ✓ Implement virtual home visits
- ✓ Discuss the research to support high impact partnership strategies
- ✓ Align programming to Connecticut’s Framework for Family Engagement

Who should attend?

Parents, Teachers, school administrators, family engagement liaisons, Title I Directors, and family engagement teams.
